Old Business

Hoopla Proposal

Following the two planning sessions with interested members and our Hoopla contact, a framework was established to create a stipend for WPLC members who wish to offer Hoopla to their patrons. WPLC would pay a stipend to Hoopla to credit to WPLC members' accounts, and a portion of that credit would come off bills to a member's account. WPLC would have no control over each location's account, logins, items offered, etc. The WPLC Board would be voting on the matter during their meeting following Advisory Council.

John Clexton (Gladwin County District Library) inquired about the expected timeline that the program could be implemented. Kate stated that plans could be put into motion as soon as the week following the meeting. John also asked if there was a benefit to more people joining WPLC's Hoopla option, and Kate advised that there wasn't.

Sarah Rick (Millington Arbela District Library) asked if there was a deadline to apply for the stipend; Kate answered that there is no hard deadline to benefit from the stipend program.

Multiple members expressed their approval of the option and offered comments that a stipend would help their location and offer a streaming option as physical media use continues to decline.

New Business

There was no new business.

Michigan High-Speed Internet Office (MIHI) Community Input

Kate and Alison led a community workshop designed by MIHI to collect community feedback about broadband access in Michigan and its impact on library patrons. Barriers to access were discussed amongst those online and in person and ranked from most to least impactful. Accessibility and affordability were the two major barriers reported by library directors in WPLC's service area. Results from the workshop will be mailed back to the MIHI office to help develop their BEAD and DEA action plans.
